

A New Edition of Greeley's American Conflict

Printed on very fine paper.
Extra fine bindings.

IMPORTANT SPECIAL NOTICE.

During the sale of the low-cost edition of Greeley, just closed, we found a great demand for a finer edition.

Therefore, we have printed an edition with extra care on very fine paper, and encased the same in fine bindings, as shown by the pictures.

When the quality of this edition is considered in connection with the "Other Inducements" set forth elsewhere on this page, it is a question if equal value has ever been offered before by any publisher.

Bear in mind that the original edition prices for Greeley alone were $9 to $13, according to binding. Our edition is printed on finer paper and has better bindings than the original.

THE American Conflict.

Practically a Complete History of Our Country, as well as the best History of the Great Rebellion.

BY HORACE GREELEY.

Large 8vo.; Two Volumes in one case; 1,430 pages; 144
reproductions of Steel Portraits and 80 Views, Maps and Plans of Battles.

WHO SHOULD READ GREELEY.

Whoever would discuss politics intelligently must read Greeley's American Conflict, because it is the only history that fully, impartially and clearly acquaints the reader with the birth, growth and history, as well as principles, of the great political parties.

Whoever would give reasons for or against "Imperialism," the impending political issue of most prominence, should read Greeley, who fully sets forth both sides of this great question.

Whoever would learn how Americans can make war must read The American Conflict, which clearly arrays the forces of both sides and vividly describes every battle and minor engagement of the greatest war of modern times.

Whoever would know the facts—absolute facts—concerning nearly all the great questions that have agitated this country should refer to Greeley.

Whoever is a true American can hardly do without this truest of American histories. This book may be said to be the corner-stone of every American library.

ORDER.

Cut this out along the dotted line.

Date _____; 1899.

THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, Washington, D. C.:

Inclosed find $ _____, for which send me, charges prepaid, one copy of _____ binding of Greeley's American Conflict.

At same time send me, of the following books, the four indicated by checks (✓)

The Great Rebellion. Vol. I.	Personal History of U. S. Grant.
The Great Rebellion. Vol. II.	Capturing a Locomotive.
Secret Service.	Field, Dungeon and Escape.
The Cannoneer.	The Boy Spy in Dixie.
Adventures of Alf Wilson.	Further Adventures of the Boy Spy.
Si and Shorty.	Soldier's Handbook.

Also place my name on the subscription list to receive THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE for one year. In case my subscription has not expired, extend my time one year from date of expiration.

Name _____

P. O. _____

Express Office _____

State _____

Address _____

THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE,

339 Pennsylvania Avenue,

Washington, D. C.

STYLES OF BINDINGS:

THE LEATHERETTE.

Price $3. Sent, postpaid, on receipt of price.

See "Other Inducements" below.

TESTIMONIALS:

Lampasas, Tex., Jan. 4, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: Your edition seems to be a perfect counterpart of the original costly edition of Greeley's American Conflict. I feel thankful indeed to get the work in such an easy and cheap way. I had been looking forward to the time when I would be able to buy the work when your grand offer was called to my attention.
Faithfully yours, W. H. Webber.

Monahan, Pa., Feb. 10, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: Greeley's American Conflict came all right and I am more than pleased with them. I do not see how such books can be gotten up for so small a sum. I have read them through and think they are the most valuable books I ever read. I have a great many books, but I would not give them up for any amount of money.
Jefferson Martin.

Tiffin, O., Feb. 11.
Editor National Tribune: I received the Greeley books and I am well pleased with them. They contain the largest amount of good reading matter that I ever received for the price. I would not part with them for 10 times the amount I paid for them. I showed them to my neighbors and they are also well pleased with them and with The National Tribune.
Harry S. Lutz.

Boulder, Colo., Jan. 28.
Editor National Tribune: The books all received. I am perfectly astonished that you can give so much for so little. Your books are worth five times the price you ask for them; they have such good binding and plain print.
Capt. L. N. Kimball.

North Liberty, Iowa, Jan. 2, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: I have received of you The American Conflict, a history of the late rebellion, written by Horace Greeley; the most correct of anything of the kind that I have seen. I have been in battles that he gives descriptions of that are wonderfully correct.
A. C. Mooreland.

Rockwell City, Iowa, Jan. 12, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: Greeley's American Conflict just received. Thanks for same. I have no hesitancy in saying it is the finest history I have read.
J. B. Copper.

Wrentham, Ill., Jan. 20, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: I desire to thank you for the pleasure you have given me. I have not enjoyed any book I ever owned as I am enjoying The American Conflict. I only wish I were rich just for a half hour. I would order the work sent to all my friends. The book should be in every library. The more the work is read the more will the public become cognizant of the magnitude of that rebellion, and of the awful difficulties and discouragements to be overcome and undergone by that noble soul, Abraham Lincoln, and his immediate assistants.
C. A. Howe.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 30.
Editor National Tribune: I wish to express to you my appreciation of The American Conflict. It is not only a complete and accurate history of the rebellion, but a good governmental history of great value. It has all the interest and fascination of a romance.
E. A. Johnson.

Edwardsville, Ill., Jan. 9, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: The American Conflict, arrived in good order. Many thanks for the same. It is, except the Bible, my favorite reading. God gave the Union.
John Amschler.

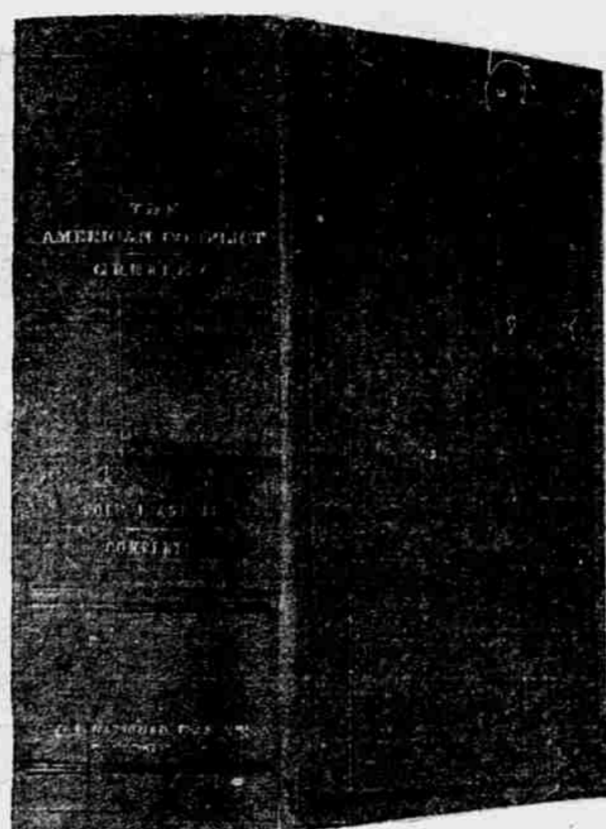

See

Important

Special

Notice

elsewhere on this page.

THE CLOTH.

Price $3.50. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of price.

See "Other Inducements" below.

THE HALF-MOROCCO.

Price $4. Sent by express, charges
prepaid, on receipt of price.

See "Other Inducements" below.

Palmer, Neb., Jan. 29, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: I received the Greeley books all right. I will say that I am very well pleased with them. I do not think I ever invested money that secured so large an amount of good reading matter in my life.
P. D. Dillon.

Ovid, Me., Dec. 14.
Editor National Tribune: Greeley's American Conflict came to hand, and I don't hesitate to say it is far beyond my expectations. It is in my opinion the greatest book ever published, and at so reasonable a price as to make it within the reach of all. In the first place, it is printed on good, hard paper, in large, clear type, and is bound neatly, substantially, and ornamentally. To anyone wishing to get a good history of the cause and incidents of the greatest war on record I don't know of a better investment.

Yours truly, Samuel Garrison.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 29, 1898.
Editor National Tribune: Please accept my thanks for Greeley's American Conflict. I will have my grandsons read them so as to be informed how terrible was the conflict through which some of their relatives passed.
Dr. P. W. Emens.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 29.
Editor National Tribune: I take pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of Greeley's American Conflict. I never half realized what a store of valuable information those volumes contained until I received them and commenced their perusal. They are better than a year's schooling to any young man who will read them.
A. S. Wells.

Clearwater, Neb., Dec. 28, 1898.
Editor National Tribune: I take great pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of Greeley's American Conflict. It certainly is a grand work and put before the public at a price within the reach of all.
Yours truly, D. M. Decamp.

Milton, Wis., Jan. 19, 1899.
Editor National Tribune: I take pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of Greeley's American Conflict. I never half realized what a store of valuable information those volumes contained until I received them and commenced their perusal. They are better than a year's schooling to any young man who will read them.
A. S. Wells.

See Important
Special Notice
elsewhere on this page.

Other Inducements:

Whoever orders Greeley's American Conflict, in either of above bindings, is entitled to select, without further cost, ANY FOUR of the standard books described below, and the same will be sent, postpaid, with the Greeley work.

Also, without further cost, THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE will be sent for one year. If already a subscriber, the time will be extended one year from date of expiration.

Either the paper or the books will be sent to an address other than that of the subscriber, if desired.

THE GREAT REBELLION.

A Complete History of the Civil War, with Reproductions of Numerous Fine Steel Engravings.

By J. T. HEADLEY,
Author of Napoleon and his Marshals; Washington and his Generals, etc.

Two Volumes; 1,122 Pages; Leatherette Covers.

THE GREAT REBELLION COMES IN TWO LARGE VOLUMES OF OVER 1,000 pages, large 8vo. size, printed in clear type, and profusely illustrated with portraits and battle scenes. Heretofore this work has sold by subscription at $7 for the set. We are the first to offer it in a popular edition. The text of the author is complete and unabridged, and the only substantial difference is that it is in leatherette binding instead of boards.

"SECRET SERVICE."

By GEN. LAFAYETTE C. BAKER,

First Chief of the Secret Service of the United States.

Illustrated; Bound in Leatherette; 398 Pages.

IN THIS GRAPHIC STORY GEN. BAKER DISCLOSES IN ONE complete narrative the secret history of the war in and about the National Capital. The work is printed in large type, with copious illustrations depicting many of the most dramatic scenes in the story. No one who has written from behind the scenes was better qualified than Gen. Baker to treat of this phase of the great conflict. The original edition of this work cost $2.50 in cloth, and our edition is printed from the same plates.

"THE CANNONEER."

Story of a Private. By Augustus Buell.

Fully Illustrated; 384 Pages.

THIS BOOK IS REMARKABLE NOT ONLY FROM THE EXPERIENCE OF the writer, but from the facility with which he tells the story of an artilleryman. Entering the service as a volunteer he was assigned to one of the finest batteries in the Army of the Potomac. From Antietam to Appomattox, through Gettysburg, and all the tremendous battles of the closing year of the war in the East the author went with his battery, and gives a vivid and accurate account of the scenes in which he participated.

ADVENTURES OF ALF WILSON.

By JOHN H. ("ALF") WILSON, One of the "Engine Thieves."

Fully Illustrated; Clear Type; 256 Pages.

THE STRANGE STORY OF ALF WILSON DEALS WITH LIFE WITHIN the lines after his capture as a member of the party in Montgomery, Richmond, South from Chattanooga to capture a locomotive, as told in Pittenger's book. His story, however, is different from that of Pittenger, because he escaped early and, in company with a comrade, made his way southward by means of an old boat down a river to the Gulf of Mexico.

THE BOY SPY IN DIXIE.

Service Under the Shadow of the Scaffold.

By J. O. KERBEY, Fully Illustrated by the Surpassing Skill of Coffin.

384 Pages; Bound in Leatherette.

THERE IS A FASCINATION ABOUT THE DOINGS OF SCOUTS AND SPIES. Their ways are curious, and the constant danger of an ignominious death which hangs about every movement of men engaged in this work never fails to interest the reader of this story. The author tells of his life in Montgomery, Richmond, Fredericksburg, and other places where he was in daily association with the leaders of the Confederacy, and at the same time in almost constant communication with the authorities at Washington.

FURTHER ADVENTURES OF THE BOY SPY.

By J. O. KERBEY, Profusely Illustrated by Coffin.

384 Pages; Bound in Leatherette.

THIS FASCINATING BOOK COVERS THE REST OF THE CAREER OF THE Boy Spy. The book entitled "The Adventures of the Boy Spy" only covered the first two years of the war. From that time forward he saw a world of adventure at work as a telegraph operator, Signal Service man, and Union cavalryman. This book, like the other, abounds in touches of human nature, which light it up on every page.

PERSONAL HISTORY OF U. S. GRANT.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON, Author of Field, Dungeon and Escape.

Fully Illustrated; Large, Clear Type; 630 Pages; Leatherette Cover.

HERE ARE ONLY TWO PERSONAL HISTORIES OF GEN. GRANT worthy the term: one is the volume by Richardson. The circumstances attending the writing of this book were peculiar. The original work was done in 1872, and Mr. Richardson went to Ohio, where he spent several months with Gen. Grant's family and friends, collecting material from original sources. Finally he submitted the proofs of his work after it was in type to Gen. Grant himself, who revised and corrected it. It very properly, therefore, bears the title, "A Personal History." After the death of Gen. Grant, Mr. Fletcher, one of the editors of the Hartford Connecticut, was employed by the original publishers to revise and bring the work down to the close of Gen. Grant's career.

CAPTURING A LOCOMOTIVE.

A True History of the Most Thrilling and Romantic Secret Service of the Late War.

By REV. WILLIAM PITTENGER, One of the Actors in the Strange Scenes Described.

Illustrated with Portraits and Wood Cuts; 350 Pages.

THE MOST THRILLING EPISODE OF THE WAR WAS WITHOUT doubt the daring attempt of a party of Gen. Mitchell's men to capture a locomotive in the heart of the Confederacy, and run a train north through Chattanooga, burning the bridges as they went, to cripple the rebel transportation preliminary to an aggressive campaign on our side. How the party succeeded in getting possession of the train, and the subsequent chase north, the capture of the party, and the execution of a part of the band and the escape of others is all graphically told by Pittenger in this inimitable book. There is nothing else like it in print, and never can be. Everyone interested in the war should read it.

SI AND SHORTY.

By JOHN McELROY, Illustrated with Hundreds of Illustrations by Klemm. 448 Pages.

CORPORAL SI KLEGG AND HIS COMRADE SHORTY HAVE BECOME historic characters. They are the embodiment of the patriotic Union soldier who went into the army in 1861 and fought through the war to the finish. Their experiences form those of the raw recruit, and in the course of time the seasoned veteran. They pass through the vicissitudes of the unrelenting discipline incident to the transformation of a country boy into a soldier.

They encounter the dangers of the battlefield and the weariness of the tireless march. Under all these circumstances these boys do their part manfully, having their ups and downs, their hard times and their good times, with a succession of comical blunders, brilliant achievements and stirring adventures.

THE FIELD, DUNGEON AND ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON, the Well-Known Correspondent.

Splendidly Illustrated; Large Type; 512 Pages.

NO HISTORICAL STORY OF THE WAR ENJOYED GREATER FAVOR than Richardson's "Field, Dungeon and Escape." The writer was a journalist who was sent as a war correspondent at the beginning of the struggle, and witnessed not only the preliminary operations by which the leaders of the rebellion brought about Secession, but went to the front with various armies, one after the other. The story then deals with life in Libby, and other rebel prisons, and finally the thrilling adventures incident to the escape. Our edition is complete and unabridged, containing exactly the same matter as the original subscription edition which sold for $3.50.

SOLDIER'S HANDBOOK.

Leatherette Cover.

FULL AND EXHAUSTIVE; 448 LARGE PAGES, WITH A COMPLETE INDEX, enabling every soldier or soldier's heir to thoroughly post himself as to his rightful claims. All the latest decisions and rulings. A complete compilation of Pension and other laws of interest to soldiers and their heirs, UP TO DATE, including claims on account of the late Spanish-American War.